Tahsis Community Survey – OCP Update

The Village of Tahsis is updating its Official Community Plan (OCP). An OCP is a long-term vision for a community regarding use of land, community facilities, infrastructure and the environment. It guides future growth and development while promoting the health, safety and welfare of residents.

It's essential that the OCP reflects community priorities and values. The purpose of this survey is to solicit public input to inform and guide the preparation of a draft OCP update.

We need to hear from you! Please return your completed survey by May __, 2019.

Estimated time to complete the survey: 15 minutes.

Demographic Questions

These questions will help us analyze the survey results and will help tell us more about Tahsis' residents.

- Village of Tahsis Zoning and Building Page – Provide link to project webpage.

When:

- Project kick-off (Phase 1 - now)
- During Community Survey #1 (Phase 1)
- Community Survey #1 Results (Phase 1)
- Community Workshop Announcement (Phase 2)
- Community Workshop Outcomes (Phase 2)
- During Community Survey #2 (Phase 2)
- OCP Draft Bylaw (Phase 3)

Start and end dates to be confirmed as each project milestone date approaches.

1.2 Project Webpage Content

The following sections provide webpage content for Phase 1.

Background / Introduction

In January, the Village Council authorized work to begin on updating the Official Community Plan (OCP). The update work will be completed over the course of 2019, with completion targeted for end of year.

Process diagram – where we are at

(under development)

Phase 1: Orientation and Analysis

The objectives of Phase are to inform and educate the community about the OCP update and obtain input on community values.

Phase 2: Draft OCP

The objective of Phase 2 is to develop a Draft OCP and gather input on its content.

Phase 3: OCP Bylaw Adoption

The objective of Phase 3 is to prepare an OCP Bylaw for Council consideration and conduct a public hearing.

What is an OCP?

An OCP is a long-term vision for a community regarding uses of land, community facilities, infrastructure and environment. OCPs do not directly regulate the use of private property, which is the purpose of a municipalities' Zoning Bylaw. Once adopted by a municipality, OCPs serve as an overarching guiding document to manage growth and development. The OCP directs all other municipal plans (including strategic and financial plans), bylaws, and ultimately capital projects within a municipality.

The Local Government Act (LGA) is the provincial act which provides authority for municipalities to plan and manage land use outlines the requirements for preparing an OCP, including required content, and method for adopting.

What are the benefits of an OCP?

OCPs provide many benefits to municipalities including:

- Identifying and locating compatible and supportive uses in proximity to each other,
- Avoiding negative impacts of development, such as:
 - Guiding uses where they can be supported by infrastructure, and
 - Minimizing or preventing negative impacts on the natural environment, for example by locating development away from watercourses and steep slopes, and
- Helping prioritize spending of finite public dollars.

How is an OCP developed?

Because OCPs reflect a long-term vision and the values of a community, they are developed with input from the community. OCPs should also be technically vetted to ensure that the vision, goals and objectives of what's desired are achievable. Several opportunities for public engagement typically occur during the development of an OCP. The public engagement opportunities for the Tahsis' OCP update are identified here. (Note: add hyperlink)

For the Tahsis OCP update an Advisory Committee has also been formed to provide input to at key stages. The Advisory Committee includes residents, business operators, the Mayor and two Council members. (Note: Include Council member names?)

How is an OCP adopted?

The LGA requires OCPs to be adopted by bylaw. This also means a public hearing must be conducted by the Village Council to allow persons interested to make their views known on the bylaw. Once adopted, any changes to the OCP will require a bylaw amendment and another public hearing.

What effect does an OCP have once adopted?

The LGA states that once an OCP is adopted all municipal activities must support the OCP (LGA, Sec. 478). All bylaws or works undertaken by a municipality must be consistent with the long-range vision for the community. OCPs do not, however, commit or authorize a municipality to proceed with any project specified in the plan. This must be done separately through a municipality's financial plan.

Why does the OCP need to be updated?

Tahsis' current OCP was adopted in 2010. Given that OCPs include content about a community's long-term vision, and outlines priorities and needs for housing, community facilities, and infrastructure, it's important those needs are reassessed on a regular basis to ensure they reflect community values and needs.

What the Census tells us about Tahsis

A Community Profile providing background demographic, socio-economic and housing data was prepared using the most recent Census Data (2016), and previous Censuses to determine trends moving forward. The Community Profile can be accessed here (Note: add hyperlink to .pdf file).

Public Engagement Opportunities

There will be several opportunities to engage during the OCP update:

- Email list-serve: If you are interested in receiving project updates by email, including upcoming public engagement opportunities you can sign-up for the email list-serve.
- Community Survey #1: A Community Survey to obtain resident input on desired long-term vision, values and objectives and which will form the basis of the OCPs' goals and objectives, will be initiated in the coming weeks.

Questions for consideration include:

 - ✓ What changes or improvements would like to see in the community in the next 10 years?
 - ✓ What do you value most / least about the community?

Stay tuned on this project webpage for more information.
- Community Workshop: A community workshop will be held this summer to obtain input on a draft OCP, including an overview of the draft OCP content, options and specific feedback that will be sought.
- Community Survey #2: A second community survey will be completed in the Fall to obtain input on the revisions completed to the draft OCP to ensure the final document reflects the communities' values to the extent possible.
- Public Hearing: Gather input on OCP Bylaw Obtain input on OCP bylaw as required under LGA Sec. 477

Who is Involved?

In order to inform the OCP update, various levels of input are required to ensure that a broad representation of interests and perspectives are reflected in the plan. The following groups will be integral in the development of an updated OCP.

- Advisory Committee – The committee includes residents, business operators, the Mayor and two Council members. They will provide input on the project’s deliverables during the OCP update as representatives of the larger community.
- Residents and Business Operators will be able to provide input through the community surveys, community workshop, and public hearing. There will also be opportunity through the ask questions and stay updated through the e-mail list serve.
- Village Staff – will provide technical input, including information on public facilities and servicing, as needed to update the OCP.
- Village Council – The final decision makers!
- Consultant – Through provincial grant funding, the Village has hired a consultant (McElhanney Ltd.) to assist with the OCP update. The role of the consultant will be to listen and ensure the public input received, including the Advisory Committee, Village Staff, and Village Council, is reflected in the updated OCP to the extent feasible. Their role will also be to provide professional advice and due care to ensure the OCP is prepared in accordance with the requirements of the provincial legislation.

Tahsis Community Survey – OCP Update

The Village of Tahsis is updating its Official Community Plan (OCP). An OCP is a long-term vision for a community regarding use of land, community facilities, infrastructure and the environment. It guides future growth and development while promoting the health, safety and welfare of residents.

It's essential that the OCP reflects community priorities and values. The purpose of this survey is to solicit public input to inform and guide the preparation of a draft OCP update.

We need to hear from you! Please return your completed survey by May __, 2019.

Estimated time to complete the survey: 15 minutes.
