

TAHSIS

TRANSPORT TABLE

The Strathcona Community Health Network is hosting a Transport Table in Tahsis on Thursday, August 15th. This will be an open and informal meeting to bring people together, talk about transport and find out who is interested in collaborating on transport projects. We have held Transport Tables in Gold River, Sayward, Zeballos, and Cortes Island. The purpose of the meetings are to better understand regional transport issues and understand ways to collaborate at a regional level.

The Health Network's role is to improve the health and well-being of communities in the Strathcona region by focusing on things that keep people healthy like housing, transport, cultural safety, connectivity and food security.
