

Emergency Support Services Director

British Columbians forced from their homes by floods, earthquakes, extreme weather or other emergencies may receive Emergency Support Services (ESS) for up to 72 hours. ESS services may include food, lodging, clothing, emotional support, information about the crisis, and family reunification. There may also be special services like first aid, child minding, pet care and transportation.

If you are energetic, motivated and organized and have a few hours to spare each month, then consider becoming the Tahsis Emergency Support Services Director (ESSD). The ESSD will be responsible for recruiting and managing a team of volunteers to organize and staff reception centres and arrange for shelter, clothing, food, and other emergency needs for the public in the event of an emergency.

The successful applicant will have good leadership skills, be a team player as well as being a caring, and community oriented person who performs well in stressful situations.

Responsibilities

- Finding other volunteers;
- Participating in ESS training courses and professional development;
- Working with local businesses, Tahsis Fire Department, Tahsis Emergency Preparedness Coordinator and the SRD Protective Services Coordinator;
- Coordinating housing and feeding people forced from their homes;
- Providing services to people who are unable to leave their homes; and
- Liaising with other emergency responders, e.g., BC Emergency Health Services.

Compensation

- This is a volunteer position which receives an honorarium of $187.50/bi-weekly
